Copyright © pubquizine.co.uk

Extinct Animals

Extinction means a species has completely disappeared, with no living individuals remaining anywhere on Earth. Scientists confirm a species is extinct only after exhaustive surveys of its known range find no trace of it. Many thousands of animals have become extinct throughout history. The animals below went extinct in the last 400 years. Match up the animal's name from the list with its picture.

Copyright © pubquizine.co.uk

Copyright © pubquizine.co.uk

Big-eared Hopping Mouse (Notomys macrotis)
Caribbean Monk Seal (Neomonachus tropicalis)
Crescent Nail-tailed Wallaby (Onychogalea lunata)
Desert Bandicoot (Perameles eremiana)
Falklands Wolf (Dusicyon australis)
Indochinese Warty Pig (Sus bucculentus)
Japanese Sea Lion (Zalophus japonicus)
Kuluwarri (Lagorchestes asomatus)
Lesser Mascarene Flying-fox (Pteropus subniger)
Liverpool Plains striped bandicoot (Perameles fasciata)
Long-tailed Hopping Mouse (Notomys longicaudatus)
Steller's sea cow (Hydrodamalis gigas)
The aurochs (Bos primigenius)
The Chinese paddlefish (Psephurus gladius)
The Desert Rat-kangaroo (Caloprymnus campestris)
The dodo (Raphus cucullatus)
The great auk (Pinguinus impennis)
The splendid poison frog (Oophaga speciosa)
Thylacine (Tasmanian Tiger)
White-footed Rabbit-Rat (Conilurus albipes).

Copyright © pubquizine.co.uk