

FIFA World Cup Mascots

The use of official mascots for FIFA World Cup events began in 1966. Nowadays both men's and woman's world cups have official mascots. The designs represent a characteristic or symbol of the host country, such as flora, fauna, or costume. These mascot characters are the Intellectual Property of FIFA. Can you remember the mascot's name and the host countries?

South Africa 2010, Zakumi - a leopard	Qatar 2022, La'eeb - A white floating headress	Germany 2011, Karla Kick - A cat	England 1966, World Cup Willie

Spain 1982, Naranjito - An orange	South Korea and Japan 2002, Ato, Kaz and Nik - futuristic, computer-generated creatures	Canada 2015, Shuême - A great white owl	Brazil 2014, Fuleco - A Brazilian three-banded armadillo

Mexico 1970, Juanito - A boy wearing Mexico's kit and a sombrero	France 1998, Footix - A lion	Argentina 1978, Gauchito - A boy wearing Argentina's kit	Italy 1990, Ciao - A stick figure player with a football head

Mexico 1986, Pique - A jalapeño pepper	Nutmeg the fox USA 1999	Russia 2018, Zabivaka - A wolf	France 1999, Ettie -A chicken

West Germany 1974, Tip and Tap - Two boys wearing Germany kits	Sweden 1995, Fiffi - A Viking	United States 1994, Striker - A dog	Germany 2006, Goleo VI and Pille - A lion
--	-------------------------------	-------------------------------------	---