

State Flags of USA 2

The United States is a big country. It has 50 states, 48 of them contiguous. Most people on Earth recognise the Stars and Stripes (Old Glory) as being the USA flag, however, each State has its own flag, not unlike different countries, usually representative the State's own history. Some flag designs are over 180 years old, though most of the flags used today aren't the same as the originals. Several of the flags have undergone redesigns over the years. Out of all 50 flags, only four don't include blue in their design. State Flags of USA 2 is a challenge.

In State Flags of USA 2 there is a random selection of State flags. Can you identify which belongs to which State? To help, there's a list of the States represented, at the end.
